

Nash

Continued from Page 1

ries a serious obligation to the community.

“I want to be able to make a contribution,” she said. “It’s an awesome responsibility to get to the position of superintendent. You’ve taken on a commitment that carries a lot of expectations from a lot of people. What I think about is making sure all children have the best opportunity. Each of us can think of teachers who have affected us.”

Reporter Rob Burgess can be reached at udjrb@pacific.net.